

Stelios' donation to Mari families

THE families of the 13 men who died in the naval base blast on July 11 will in the next few days receive 5,600 euros each from a charity set up by Cypriot tycoon Sir Stelios Haji-Ioannou.

The money was collected through a campaign launched by Sir Stelios to collect donations for the families of the 13 service men and fire-fighters killed when munitions confiscated from Iran exploded.

Sir Stelios himself had donated 50,000 euros.

The special account will remain open for those who want to donate to the families.
